What Is the Difference Between Healthcare Proxy and Power of Attorney? A healthcare proxy is used only for health care decision making and a power of attorney is for all other types of matters. A health care proxy is only used when you're incapacitated and can't make health care decisions.